

Indian Creek Winery

Family-owned and operated, Indian Creek Winery truly believes in that old saying "Work hard, play hard." Bill and Mui Stowe have been working hard since 1982 to craft premium wines from the best grapes in the heart of Idaho's Snake River Valley appellation. Bill was in the Airforce and while stationed in Germany he worked at a local winery and got bit by the wine-bug. After Germany, Bill was stationed in Korat, Thailand where he and Mama Mui (with twinkles in their eyes) fell in love and married. They moved back to the states and eventually found their way back to Bill's homestate of Idaho. Bill, Mui and children found 40 acres where the vineyard and winery were born, just 30 minutes outside of Boise in Kuna.

They planted the vineyard in 1982 and have endured the ups and downs of Mother Nature, including tragic winter freezes, early spring frosts, bird damage, along with perfect vintages and growing conditions. Bill is considered one of the pioneers of the Idaho wine industry and helped start the first Idaho Wine Commission. Mui worked full-time as head accountant at MEPS, downtown Boise. Second generation, Tammy Stowe-McClure and husband, Mike McClure, stepped on board in 2005 to help continue the success of this growing winery. Mike uses his scientific geology background in his winemaking approach of understanding soils, growing conditions & terroir which allows the character of the varietal to shine. Tammy manages the tasting room, designs the wine labels and plans fun events at the winery while helping Mama Mui out with the beautiful gardens.

All the hard work has been paying off – taking home gold medals from several wine competitions as well as being honored "Idaho Winery of the Year" in Wine Press Northwest's Spring '08 Edition. We produce a wide variety of wine, and most are available for sampling in our tasting room at the winery. Besides our tasting room, we offer a variety of services such as custom wine labeling, wine bars, wedding hosting, group tours, and events throughout the year. Consider joining our wine club to take full advantage of special releases, wine discounts, gift shop discounts and free admission to our annual Father's Day open house.

Indian Creek Winery

Family-owned and operated, Indian Creek Winery truly believes in that old saying "Work hard, play hard." Bill and Mui Stowe have been working hard since 1982 to craft premium wines from the best grapes in the heart of Idaho's Snake River Valley appellation. Bill was in the Airforce and while stationed in Germany he worked at a local winery and got bit by the wine-bug. After Germany, Bill was stationed in Korat, Thailand where he and Mama Mui (with twinkles in their eyes) fell in love and married. They moved back to the states and eventually found their way back to Bill's homestate of Idaho. Bill, Mui and children found 40 acres where the vineyard and winery were born, just 30 minutes outside of Boise in Kuna.

They planted the vineyard in 1982 and have endured the ups and downs of Mother Nature, including tragic winter freezes, early spring frosts, bird damage, along with perfect vintages and growing conditions. Bill is considered one of the pioneers of the Idaho wine industry and helped start the first Idaho Wine Commission. Mui worked full-time as head accountant at MEPS, downtown Boise. Second generation, Tammy Stowe-McClure and husband, Mike McClure, stepped on board in 2005 to help continue the success of this growing winery. Mike uses his scientific geology background in his winemaking approach of understanding soils, growing conditions & terroir which allows the character of the varietal to shine. Tammy manages the tasting room, designs the wine labels and plans fun events at the winery while helping Mama Mui out with the beautiful gardens.

All the hard work has been paying off – taking home gold medals from several wine competitions as well as being honored "Idaho Winery of the Year" in Wine Press Northwest's Spring '08 Edition. We produce a wide variety of wine, and most are available for sampling in our tasting room at the winery. Besides our tasting room, we offer a variety of services such as custom wine labeling, wine bars, wedding hosting, group tours, and events throughout the year. Consider joining our wine club to take full advantage of special releases, wine discounts, gift shop discounts and free admission to our annual Father's Day open house.

